your room and always remember to bring the measurements of your existing firebox.

As the temperature warms, homeowners and designers alike turn to outdoor spaces for inspiration and relaxation. You can make a splash with a water feature or fountain and surround it with lush landscaping to transport yourself to your own Mediterranean villa. Top builders and designers now create opulent outdoor living spaces as thoughtful and well-appointed as their indoor counterparts. From stone fireplaces to travertine planters and marble statuary, you can create your own outdoor oasis by choosing real stone accents. Invent beauty by using your imagination to create a garden space that is unique. Rooms and gardens may reflect the past yet be relevant to today. To accomplish this, layer colors, textures, and invigorating patterns. Spaces we consistently admire are those that incorporate architectural principles: symmetry, scale, and proportion. Whether you are re-creating a French castle or adding unique touches to your urban space, stone adds a special elegance to any space.
